Key Highlights

• Advanced Phase III clinical trials for oncology candidate EL-204 with positive interim readouts.
• Successfully completed European market launch for our flagship neuro-therapeutic drug, Synapse-X.
• R&D; investment increased by 14% to support the expansion of our rare disease pipeline.
• Achieved zero critical findings during annual FDA manufacturing facility compliance audits.

Management Commentary

Q3 demonstrated resilient demand for our established therapeutic portfolios while our clinical pipeline advanced significantly. We remain committed to disciplined capital allocation as we prepare for multiple regulatory submissions over the coming fiscal year.

Risks And Challenges

• Ongoing pricing pressure from international healthcare authorities affecting profit margins.
• Potential patent cliffs for legacy small-molecule portfolios approaching expiration in 2027.
• Supply chain bottlenecks impacting the procurement of specialized chemical precursors.

Outlook Next Quarter

We anticipate moderate revenue growth driven by expanded adoption of Synapse-X in new European territories. Management remains focused on executing our pivotal clinical milestones and maintaining operational efficiency through the end of the fiscal year.
